

6516208068.txt

Satellite radio is a boon to people who spend long hours on the road. By having one channel on the radio for an entire drive, there is less concern of losing a station in the mountains, and taking one's eyes off the road to find something to listen to.